for the love of Animals

a call to the heart

WITH ANNA BREYTHENBACH & BRAD LAUGHLIN
A SIX-WEEK ONLINE COURSE
SEPTEMBER 22 – OCTOBER 30, 2021
Become the change.....

For the most part we have lost our ability to communicate clearly with animals and to know them as our companions on the path. This communion used to be part of every human’s experience but in today’s world has been suppressed by our busyness, feelings of separation from nature and domination of the Earth. The result is accelerating environmental destruction, extinction of species and increasing feelings of angst, hopelessness and isolation.

Yet a doorway is opening. More people are recognizing that we are intrinsically and inextricably in relationship with the Earth and her varied life forms. We are learning to cooperate with other earthlings instead of enslave them. Ancient and modern methods serve to bring us back from destruction and into harmony with the rest of the natural world. We can engage animals — wild and domestic — seek guidance from them, find collaborative solutions for the benefit of all and thrive together on our beautiful planet that we all call home.

The journey begins with becoming the change we wish to see in the world. As we learn to live more in Love, we strengthen our conscious connection with the web of life and rediscover the joy of becoming present and alive to our community of non-human brothers and sisters.

Contemplating the question “What is Love?”, we shine the light on our human conditioning and egoic (personality) patterning. We explore how to bring down the veils that cloud our perception so that we may live less in seeming separation — and more in love. This is a state of being rather than a “doing”. With a simple map to follow, we travel a path to opening the heart. This allows us to enjoy direct, enduring benefits on inner and outer levels which permeate all our connections and expressions.
The clearer the ego, the more we develop inner peace and a quiet mind and the clearer our intuition becomes. However, developing inner peace can be challenging amidst the busyness of the world. So it helps to have some simple, practical tools for the journey. If Module 1 provided a map, then this module offers:

- A compass — a powerful technique called Witnessing
- An overview of the terrain of the System of Separation, which keeps us trapped in our egoic limitations

Through this exploration we can better navigate beyond the places where we get stuck in judgment and negativity. We develop a quieter mind, deeper compassion and greater neutrality — all essential qualities for clear interspecies communication.
Module 3 - Telepathic Communication Review

In this practical module we anchor our understanding of what real respect for others looks like in attitude and action. With this bedrock in place we enter the quantum field of shared thoughts and feelings, which is where our knowing of the other’s truth arises. A simple step-by-step process to connect telepathically helps bring our minds into alignment with what is essentially a direct communion in unconditional love.
Module 4 - The Heart of the Matter

As interspecies communicators we are naturally inclined towards service to others, constantly putting our love into action. However, how do we navigate through complexities such as dealing with the humans involved regarding the truth, needs and wishes of an animal? In addition to using a map to find our way, in this module we receive a signpost. The Triangles technique is a very simple yet profound journaling exercise to help us:

- Identify where we get stuck in limited, polarized consciousness
- Live more in balanced, heart-centered states
- Become clearer communicators
- Serve the highest good of all
Both consciously and unconsciously, we tend to anthropomorphize — meaning we overlay our perspective and our shadow aspects onto other species. Because humanity’s number one shadow issue at this time is Victim consciousness, we tend to see this playing out in our relationships with other species, which prevents us from experiencing our non-human friends as they truly are and from communicating clearly with them. In this module we:

- Explore practical examples of this dynamic
- Examine other key patterns that play an opposite to the Victim persona, e.g. Savior
- Learn to take back our inferiority-superiority view that we project onto our pets and other animals so we can experience them in their fullness
- Recognize that all beings have incarnated to live their own purpose and that we are privileged to share this beautiful journey with them
Who are we when stripped of all the things that get in the way of our true selves? In any interaction with non-humans, we have this mirrored to us. The call is to relate and live increasingly in natural states of being, such as: presence, authenticity, truth and harmony. Intuitive communication isn’t only about hearing the animals, but also our own inner whisperings. In this beautiful reciprocity we find that as our attention and love bless nature, so too are we gifted with the grace of their teachings and wisdom.
About Anna & Brad

ANNA BREY TENBACH is an internationally acclaimed professional interspecies communicator based in South Africa and practising globally for the past 20 years. In the USA she studied animal communication with the Assisi International Animal Institute and trained in tracking and mentoring at the Wilderness Awareness School. She is also the subject of the documentary movie “The Animal Communicator” watched by millions of people and a few of their pets.

Anna’s consulting and teaching focuses on conservation projects such as ecological restoration, predator and primate rehabilitation, elephant management, human-wildlife conflict and cetacean research. Her passion is raising awareness and advancing the relationships among human and nonhuman animals, on both the personal and spiritual levels. As a qualified master training facilitator, she has guided thousands of people to rediscover and develop their natural senses and deepen their connection with all species in an honouring manner. Anna is inspired by being a voice for the animals and natural environments. To learn more about Anna and animal communication visit animalspirit.org.

BRAD LAUGHLIN is a spiritual teacher whose passion for over two decades has been finding innovative ways of helping people to awaken to their true nature, which is love and joy. Using ancient Truth teachings, yogic practices and spiritual psychology, he works with students worldwide to dissolve old, limiting ego structures that keep us trapped in negativity, pain and fear. Brad believes that the greatest gift we can give the world is our own awakened consciousness and that global change can be accomplished through each person’s willingness to show up and get involved.

‘Living with Enlightenment — A Journey of Love’ is Brad’s book about his life-partnership of over 25 years with Leslie Temple-Thurston, a teacher of enlightenment, and the profound transformation he experienced. Together they are co-authors of books and co-founders of the international spiritual nonprofit, CoreLight.org and its humanitarian arm, SeedsOfLight.org that serves marginalized communities and AIDS orphans in South Africa.
